NORDOFF & ROBBINS

Welcome everyone

Our favourite day of the year is here again.

We're so excited to be here at the O₂ Silver Clef Awards 2024 – our 23rd year supporting this life-changing charity.

A huge congratulations to Nordoff and Robbins for another fantastic year bringing their transformative music therapy to so many people across England, Scotland and Wales.

Today's all about getting together, celebrating the brightest talent in the industry, and raising vital funds for Nordoff and Robbins, so they can keep sharing the power of music with those who need it most.

Thanks to Emma Banks and the O₂ Silver Clef Committee for everything they do to make this day happen.

Have a great afternoon,

A message from our Chair Emma Banks

Welcome to the Grosvenor (again) for this year's awards. How time flies! It's great to have some new faces in the room, as well as the usual suspects. Whether it's your first O2 Silver Clef Awards, or your 48th (I have been to plenty...) this event is always a special one.

This year is no exception. Where else would you have all these incredible artists in a room together? And how amazing that we raise hundreds of thousands of pounds to fund our mission to share the power of music at the same time?

Last year's £612,000 raised helped Nordoff and Robbins reach nearly 14,000 people with over 50,000 music therapy sessions, and since we started the O2 Silver Clef Awards they have raised over £13 million.

That's a phenomenal amount of money for a great cause, but with rising prices and annual running costs of £8.1 million, we need every penny we can raise, while we spread the word and reach of the charity even further.

None of this would happen without a bunch of people and so I want to extend my thanks to our longstanding support from O2, all the award sponsors, the Committee and everyone working behind the scenes. Of course our wonderful honorees and award presenters are what make this event so special – thank you for giving up your time today. Additionally if you have bought a table or a ticket, placed an ad in the souvenir brochure, purchased an auction lot, a raffle ticket or made a donation – THANK YOU! This event simply wouldn't be possible without you.

Change is on the horizon and there are exciting times ahead for the O2 Silver Clef Awards. Next year, it will no longer be a good old fashioned luncheon, the awards are shifting to the evening so make sure you save the date : Wednesday 2 July 2025.

2026 will be the O2 Silver Clef 50th anniversary and we want to make that a massive celebration of winners past and present, the amazing work we have all done together so far and an opportunity to prepare for the next 50 years!

I want to end this message on a personal note. Many of you will already know that David Munns stepped down from his role of Chair of the Board of Trustees earlier this year after a phenomenal 13 years as Chair and an additional 17 years supporting the charity. Somehow he and the rest of the Trustees bamboozled me into stepping into his very big shoes and so I write this as the new Chair of the Board of Trustees of Nordoff and Robbins.

This is my tenth O2 Silver Clef as Chair and I think now is the time that I hand over to a new person to steer this ship. It's been an absolute joy and pleasure presiding over the awards in the last ten years and overseeing massive growth in the event and the fundraising potential. I am handing over to Joe Munns who has been on the committee for some years and I know that the event is in very safe hands. With his leadership I am confident that the O2 Silver Clef awards will remain our flagship event for many years to come and I will certainly see you all at the dinner next year!

That's enough from me.. have a great day, enjoy yourself, drink up and please dig deep into your pockets.

A message from our CEO Sandra Schembri

Welcome to this year's O2 Silver Clef Awards.

The awards are one of my favourite days of the year and I can't wait to see it all unfold. What a line up we have in store for you today.

I know I've said this before, but it's because it's true. The music industry and Nordoff and Robbins are intrinsically linked. We simply wouldn't survive without you. It's great to have so many of you in the room today supporting the charity, and I know you will all join me in congratulating our award winners.

A massive thank you to all our sponsors, especially O2. And of course, our Committee, for all the hours you put into this event.

Today is a celebration of music. But we can't escape the world we are living in at the moment. We are seeing so many people in need denied access to the care and support they need.

The scale of the problem is mounting each day. And so is the demand for music therapy. We're seeing more people with mental health challenges. More people living with dementia. Young people denied access to music hubs as they close across the country. And we are seeing more and more schools not renewing music therapy because of budget cuts.

The power of music therapy for every single one of these people is undeniable. I see it firsthand every day. And whilst we're working hard to reach more and more people, we need help.

Which is why the O2 Silver Clefs and the money raised today is so important. You'll hear Ruby's story today and can find more on Page 20. This is the reason we're working hard, and this is why we all get involved with this work.

Without you here today, we wouldn't be able to reach people like Ruby. The music would stop.

So thank you, thank you thank you! Enjoy your day. Keep supporting in any way you can, and I'll see you soon.

About Nordoff and Robbins

We are the UK's largest music therapy charity. It started with two pioneers called Paul Nordoff and Clive Robbins helping children with profound learning difficulties to connect and communicate through music.

Today, informed by more than 60 years of practice and research, our music therapists work with people of all ages living with conditions such as dementia or acquired brain injuries to break through the barriers that can cause social isolation.

The impact of our work for people and society can be truly transformative, and we want a world where everyone can access music for their health and wellbeing.

In 2023, we

Worked with nearly 400 partner organisations

Reached nearly 14,000 people with music therapy

Delivered 49,129 music therapy sessions

Costing us £8.1 million to keep the charity running

Nordoff and Robbins and the music industry

From our very first O2 Silver Clef awards in 1976, to the Knebworth concert in 1990, the music industry has always been at the heart of Nordoff and Robbins. Without you, we simply wouldn't reach the thousands of people we do each year.

We all know the power music has. From the emotional connection to your favourite artist, or the festivals in fields with friends – it connects us. And in the hands of our music therapists, it can be transformative.

As we look ahead, Nordoff and Robbins and the music industry can bring the music to thousands of more people in real need.

Ruby's story

"The dark thoughts stop when you're playing music."

Ruby has an amazing sense of humour. She's a brilliant baker, loves listening to music and playing her bass. She loves getting piercings and colouring her hair. She sounds like most teenage girls of 16.

She was 10 years old when she was diagnosed with Autism and ADHD. Growing up, every day events caused Ruby extreme emotional distress and her parents worried as her mental health become worse and worse.

A life-changing event

At the age of 14, life became so unbearable for Ruby that she was sectioned under the Mental Health Act for five months due to suicide attempts, self-harm and unpredictable behaviour. Life stood still for 8 days while her parents waited in their local hospital for a place on a specialist psychiatric children's ward. Eventually one became available in Chelmsford; 80 miles from home and a 160 mile round trip to visit.

"Your hopes and dreams for your child are taken away from you. You lose all your parental rights and strangers are suddenly making decisions on how best to care for your child." – Bev

Even after Ruby returned home from hospital, she was still very unwell and it was difficult for the whole family. No treatments or therapies were helping Ruby to get better, and she struggled to engage with or trust any professionals offering support.

We had to try music therapy

Ruby's mum Bev didn't know much about music therapy or how it worked, but had read about the benefits so knew she had to try. So, Ruby started weekly sessions with Jered.

"When I first met Ruby, she had such a big personality, and I knew she just needed guidance and encouragement to show the world who she really is. The sessions gave Ruby confidence and allowed her to be silly and have fun." – Jered, music therapist.

Music therapy provided a safe space for Ruby, free from the pressure of the outside world and allowed her to express herself through music. She immediately connected with Jered and really looked forward to her sessions. She would leave each week feeling calmer, happier and uplifted - the happiest her family had seen her in a long time.

"Discovering music therapy has helped save my beautiful girl from what looked like a very difficult future, that's if she even had a future. There have been times when I thought it would all end" – Bev.

O2 Silver Clef Awards Committee

The O2 Silver Clef Awards were started in 1976 by an enthusiastic team of music industry professionals who wanted to use their skills and contacts to help raise funds for Nordoff and Robbins.

Today we have a Committee of 16 dedicated music industry experts who work hard all year round to make sure the awards are the very best they can be. The Committee works with Nordoff and Robbins every step of the way and without them the O2 Silver Clef Awards simply would not exist, so we thank them wholeheartedly for everything they do.

2023 Highlights

Where music and mud meet

Take on the adreneline-pumping outdoor obstacle course in an ideal team building activity.

Put comfort and cleanliness aside for a day and raise money for Nordoff and Robbins against other teams in the music industry in the grungiest, most exhausting (but ultimately most rewarding) manner imaginable.

Organised in partnership with our friends at Wasserman Music, the race is accompanied by plenty of live music, food and drink for anyone not too filthy and knackered to partake. This year, we are aiming to raise £100,000 which could fund over 1,000 music therapy sessions for people across the UK.

Virgin Media O2 launched on 1 June 2021, combining the UK's largest and most reliable mobile network with a fully gigabit broadband network where customers benefit from average speeds 5x faster than the national average.

The company has 47.7 million UK connections across its award-winning broadband, mobile, TV and home phone services. Its fixed network covers more than half of the country (16.3m homes serviceable) alongside a mobile network that covers 99% of the nation's population, with 5G services live in more than 2,100 towns and cities. The company is on track to reach 50% population 5G coverage in 2023.

Virgin Media O2 is upgrading its fixed network to full fibre to the premises with completion in 2028. Its shareholders and investment firm InfraVia Capital Partners are investing approximately £4.5bn to build fibre to 5 million homes and businesses not currently served by Virgin Media O2's network by 2026, with the opportunity to expand to an additional 2 million homes. As an anchor tenant of this network, Virgin Media O2's total footprint will reach around 80% of the UK once build and upgrade work is completed.

Through Virgin Media O2 Business, it plays a leading role supporting entrepreneurs, businesses, enterprises and the public sector with their digital transformation through a range of connectivity, security, cloud and and tailor-made services. It is also the network of choice for mobile virtual network operators giffgaff, Sky Mobile and Lycamobile, as well as managing a 50:50 joint venture with Tesco for Tesco Mobile.

The company is committed to using the power of connectivity to make its better for people and the planet, taking action to close the digital divide and building an inclusive, resilient, and low carbon economy. The business has set an ambitious commitment to achieve net zero carbon across its operations, products and supply chain by the end of 2040.

"At O2 we understand how important music is in people's lives. That's why we're thrilled to continue our longstanding partnership with Nordoff and Robbins. The O2 Silver Clef Awards is our chance to shine a spotlight on the music industry's brightest talent, while raising crucial funds for this incredible charity – and we can't wait to be a part of it again this year".

Best Live Act

Since its inception in Soho in 1976, PizzaExpress Live has built a reputation as one of the UK’s leading destinations for live music, presenting over 1,500 shows per year, across multiple venues including PizzaExpress Live in Holborn, the historic PizzaExpress Jazz Club in Soho, and The Pheasantry, Kings Road, Chelsea.

Live music has always been an important part of PizzaExpress, with the brand’s founder, Peter Boizot, being a jazz lover who constantly sought ways to include music in his restaurants, whether at PizzaExpress branches from the late 1960s, and at his other ventures Pizza on the Park and Kettner’s from the 1970s.

The flagship venue at 10 Dean Street, London has hosted internationally acclaimed music since its first ticketed shows in May 1976. PizzaExpress is also home to a long line of musicians who have gone on to become global stars including Jamie Cullum, Amy Winehouse, Norah Jones, and Gregory Porter.

In 2023, PizzaExpress Live launched its own record label, PX Records. The label releases albums from new and established stars of the jazz and soul scene, alongside a selection of music from PizzaExpress Live’s extensive archive of live recordings, dating back over 45 years. In April 2024, PizzaExpress marked the one-year milestone of their successful record label, launching record stores located within the brand’s live music venues in Soho, Holborn and Chelsea, offering up vinyl and CDs from PX Records artists.

“We have a passion for great music and live performances, and for almost 50 years, music has been an iconic part of PizzaExpress, so we’re thrilled to be supporting ‘Best Live Act’ at the Silver Clef Awards. It’s a privilege to be able to celebrate incredible musical talent through the sponsorship of this award as part of our national charity partnership with Nordoff & Robbins.”

Contemporary Music Award

Founded in 1934, PPL is the UK music industry's collective management organisation (CMO) for performers and recording rightsholders. We license recorded music in the UK when it is played in public (shops, bars, nightclubs, offices etc.) or broadcast (BBC, commercial radio, commercial TV etc.) and ensure that revenue flows back to our members. These include both independent and major record companies, together with performers ranging from emerging grassroots artists through to established session musicians and globally renowned artists. PPL's public performance licensing is carried out on PPL's behalf by PPL PRS Ltd, the joint venture between PPL and PRS for Music.

We also collect performance rights internationally when music is played overseas in public and used on TV, radio and some online streaming services, as well as for private copying. International royalties are an increasingly important revenue stream for performers and recording rightsholders. In 2022, in total, we collected £272.6 million across all of our revenue streams, while also distributing money to more than 165,000 performers and recording rightsholders.

"As former recipients of PPL Momentum Music Funding, we could not be prouder to present Ezra Collective with the Contemporary Music Award. Their rich fusion of jazz, hip hop and dance rhythms has seen them become ambassadors for a whole new generation of UK jazz influenced musicians and captivate audiences globally. We also commend the wonderful work Nordoff and Robbins do every day through music therapy to make the world a better place for many vulnerable people."

Peter Leatham OBE
CEO - PPL
